

PERMISSION SLIP

This is an appearance, materials, and location release agreement, to use the video, still, and sound recordings across all media, known now or known in the future, in perpetuity, across the universe.

This agreement is between me, OLGA DEUTSCH, and Suburban Legends Film Co., (Producer), on 09-08, 2020.

This is a time of a national pandemic, and I agree to be interviewed, and promise not to sue Suburban Legends Film Co., out of any matters arising from this production and COVID 19. I will voice any safety concerns the moment I encounter them.

I agree to be interviewed, and do so on my own free will.

I am not being paid to do this interview by Producer, or any third party for my appearance.

I agree you can film me in my house, and I am not expecting to be paid for the usage of my house during that time period.

You are allowed to use my interview to create a "trailer" and if well received, to create a television docuseries.

The pictures, stories, drawings, photographs that I share today or in the future, by email, text, or in person, are permitted to be included in the trailer, as well as the television docuseries.

I will not grant other interviews, post on social media, or speak to friends, regarding details about "My Life Story in regards to Wally Thrasher" unless agreed to in writing, up until the day of the television docuseries' release.

The rights granted herein shall apply for the sake of Producer, its licensees, successors, and assigns, including but not limited to Broadcaster.

I cannot renege on this agreement, because Producer will begin using my interview in the trailer and/or television docuseries in rough cuts right away.

This is our entire agreement.
